WEATHERHEAD SCHOLARS PROGRAM
2017–2018

The Weatherhead Scholars Program, a new program in the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs (WCFIA), welcomes its first class of participants in 2017–2018. Established in 1958, the WCFIA is the largest international social science research center within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. We support international, transnational, global, and comparative research, whether historical or contemporary, including policy analysis.

The Weatherhead Scholars Program offers visiting faculty, postdoctoral researchers, and experienced practitioners the opportunity to spend up to one year at Harvard conducting research. During their time in residence, Scholars are expected to participate in the biweekly Weatherhead Forum; contribute to some of the Center’s many other intellectual activities, including our new research clusters; and engage with the undergraduate and graduate student communities.

Kathleen Molony is the Scholars Program director. The program offices are located at 61 Kirkland Street.

AFFILIATES

ADRIEN ABECASSIS
Fellow, Diplomat, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, France. Diplomacy; European affairs; public opinion; and populism.

MOHAMED-ALI ADRAOUI
Visiting Scholar, Senior Fellow, Middle East Institute, National University of Singapore; Marie Skłodowska-Curie Fellow, Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University. Islamic radicalism; political Islam; US foreign policy towards political Islam; and Islam in the West.

NICOLE CUUNJIENG
Postdoctoral Fellow, Research Fellow, Clare Hall, University of Cambridge. Transnational intellectual history of Southeast Asia, with particular focus on the Philippines.

DARIA DJORDJEVIC
Postdoctoral Fellow, PhD, Department of Anthropology, Harvard University; MD, Harvard Medical School. Global oncology; noncommunicable disease movement; ethics of care; history of chronic disease in Africa; transnational public-private partnerships; health equity; application of social science research to health care and systems; and the history of science and medicine.

QUOC-AHN DO
Visiting Scholar (spring 2018). Associate Professor, Department of Economics, Sciences Po. Applied microeconomic topics related to political economy and social networks, such as political connections, favoritism, corruption, and friendship networks.

LORENZA B. FONTANA
Marie Skłodowska-Curie Fellow. Research Associate, Faculty of Social Sciences, Department of Politics and International Studies, Open University. Human rights; global governance; contentious politics; social movements; ethnicity; resource governance and participation; and Latin America.

CARMEN S. GEHA
Visiting Scholar (spring 2018). Assistant Professor of Public Administration, Department of Political Studies and Public Administration, American University of Beirut. Power-sharing politics; crisis; sectarianism; civil society; and gender and Middle East studies.

CAMILLE HAMIDI
Visiting Scholar (fall 2017). Associate Professor, Political Science, University of Lyon. Political sociology; ethnicity and politics; discrimination; and voluntary associations and politics.

2017–2018 Affiliates continued on reverse >
MARC KLEMP
Visiting Scholar.
Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, University of Copenhagen; Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Economics and the Population Studies and Training Center, Brown University. Interaction between economic and demographic factors with a focus on long-run phenomena.

MATTHIAS KOENIG
Visiting Scholar (spring 2018).
Professor, Department of Sociology, Göttingen University. Human rights; constitutional politics; and governance of cultural diversity in modern nation-states.

OLIVIER LAVINAL
Fellow.
Program Manager, Fragility and Conflict Group, World Bank. Global public goods and development challenges such as migration flows, cross-border security, and climate change.

SOPHIE LÉMIÈRE
Postdoctoral Fellow.
Max Weber Postdoctoral Fellow, Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies, European University Institute. Malaysian politics; collusion between civil society and political parties; religion, politics and criminality in a comparative perspective; and role of Muslim women democrats.

SASCHA LOHLMANN
Fritz Thayssen Fellow.
Fellow, Americas Division, SWP German Institute for International and Security Affairs. Economic and diplomatic sanctions in transatlantic relations.

NICOLE MENZENBACH
Fellow.
Diplomat, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Germany. The challenges of science diplomacy.

ALEKSANDRA MEZYKOWSKA
Fellow (spring 2018).
Attorney, Human Rights Section, Legal and Treaty Department, Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Judicial dialogue between the US Supreme Court and European Court of Human Rights; and implications for democratic transformation.

STEFFEN MURAU
Postdoctoral Fellow.
PhD, Department of International Politics, City, University of London. International political economy; monetary theory; international monetary system; European Monetary Union; and history of economic thought.

SILVIA RIEF
Joseph A. Schumpeter Fellow.
Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, University of Innsbruck. Consumption and material provision in economic and social thought and modern democratic theories.

SAMUEL Saine
Fellow.
Colonel, United States Army. Strategy; coalitions; and the US national security decision-making process.

ØYVIND SKORGE
Postdoctoral Fellow.
Senior Research Fellow, Institute for Social Research, Oslo. Gender inequality in politics and the labor market during the last century.

HARALD STIEBER
Fellow.

JOSEPH C. TURNHAM
Fellow.

KATE WILLIAMS
Postdoctoral Fellow (spring 2018).
Economic and Social Research Council Future Research Leaders Fellow, Department of Sociology, University of Cambridge; Research Fellow, Lucy Cavendish College, University of Cambridge. Knowledge production; and use and evaluation in policy contexts, particularly the nature and effects of alternative metrics of research impact.

JAKUB WÓDKA
Fellow (fall 2017).
Counsellor, Head of Unit, Department of Strategy, Polish Ministry of Foreign Affairs. International status of middle powers such as Poland, Turkey, and South Korea.